The Senior Class Presents The 1961 Centerama

Like a beehive our school is humming with busy occupants. Some are working, some are idling, they come and they go; but finally with the coming of spring the seniors go out from their dwelling of four years even as the bees swarm from their hive. For three months the hive is inactive. With the coming of fall, the hive again begins to hum with new occupants and the cycle of knowledge continues.

Activities Within

Mr. Lingenfelter, high school principal, presents his annual welcome address to the students of Marion Center Joint High School at the Orientation Assembly. This is held at the beginning of each school year.

The school presents a combined dramatic and musical program each Christmas season. This year the dramatic presentation was "Why The Chimes Rang." It was accompanied by a background of Christmas music by the Mixed Chorus. Judie Condron portrayed the angel.

The students appearing in this picture are participating in the mock presidential campaign which was held in our school for the first time this year.

The seniors are practicing for Vespers, Commencement, and Final Assembly.

Alma Mater

Hail, oh Alma Mater, hail!
Praises loud shall rise
As our gallant green and gold,
Raise we to the skies.
Green and gold, green and gold,
True we'll ever be,
Alma Mater, we will pledge,
Our love and loyalty.

Alma Mater, school we love,
Hold your standard high.
We, thy children, sing to thee,
As the years go by.
Green and gold, green and gold,
True we'll ever be,
Alma Mater we will pledge,
Our love and loyalty.

ADMINISTRATION

In Command

Mr. William A. McCreery

Mr. William A. McCreery, the supervising principal of the Marion Center Joint Schools, began his teaching career here in the social studies field in 1925.

He attended the Blairsville High School, and Westminster College, where he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in business administration, social studies, and Spanish. He continued his schooling with several summers of graduate work in education at Pennsylvania State University, and then transferred to the University of Pittsburgh to secure his Master of Education degree in school administration.

Our supervising principal enjoys the outdoors and spends much of his spare time on the family farm near the Conemaugh Dam. He enjoys hunting, and color photography, and likes to read biography and historical fiction. His favorite historical character is Abraham Lincoln, and his favorite biographies are Carl Sandburg's Prairie Years and Charnwood's Abraham Lincoln. Mr. McCreery resides in Marion Center during the school week and spends his week ends with his sister in Indiana, Pa., or on the family farm during pleasant weather.

Looking back over the past thirty-six years of service in the Marion Center schools, Mr. Mc-Creery regards as high points in his experience the formation of the Marion Center Joint Schools, and the steady progress toward the provision of modern and adequate school facilities for children of the area. What was once only a dream is now becoming a reality through far-sighted planning and cooperation of our school boards, as well as the support of the people of the community.

Mr. McCreery has this to say about our schools: "Due to the excellent professional services of our teachers, the fine work of our nonprofessional staff, and the achievements of our students, the Marion Center Joint Schools are recognized as among the best."

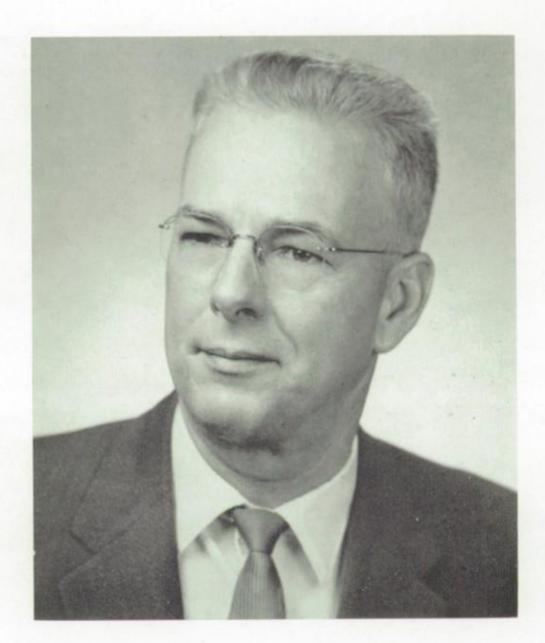

Of The Beehive

Mr. Watson W. Lingenfelter

Mr. Lingenfelter has given 19 years service as a teacher to Marion Center High School. The last two he has served as high school principal. He resides at R.D., Home, Pennsylvania, with his wife and two sons, Duane and Brent.

In college Mr. Lingenfelter majored in social studies and minored in mathematics. He has a Bachelor of Science Degree from Indiana State College, and a Master of Education Degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Some of his hobbies are reading and sports in general. When asked what he liked he said, "I like to see pupils take advantage of the opportunity provided for them to get an education."

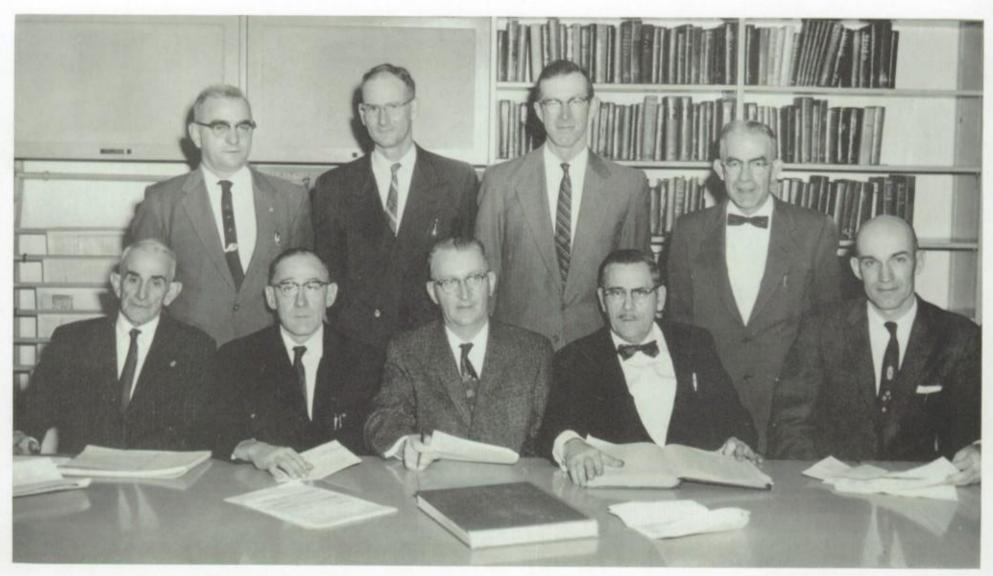

Mr. Graham S. Baskin

Mr. Baskin is in his fifteenth year of service at Marion Center High School. For the last two years he has been assistant principal. Prior to that he taught health and physical education. He resides with his wife at R.D. #2, Marion Center, Pennsylvania. He received a Bachelor of Science Degree from Slippery Rock State Teachers College and a Master of Education Degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He has also attended Pennsylvania State University and Duquesne University.

Assisting Those Workers In Command

Miss Mary Lou Haer, our office secretary, has many duties which keep her busy throughout the school year. She keeps records of all bank deposits for the various organizations and also serves as secretary for Mr. McCreery and Mr. Lingenfelter. She acquired her training at Indiana Business College.

Mrs. Elaine Woods, who graduated from Marion Center in 1958, is now serving as secretary for the guidance department. Typing records, filing permanent record cards, taking dictation, and requesting students for interviews are among her various duties.

Miss Carol Davidson, secretary for Miss Zugates, is selling Harriet Putt cafeteria tickets. She also types menus and makes bank deposits for the cafeteria. Miss Davidson graduated from Marion Center Joint High School.

Guidance Counselor
Mr. Ralph B. Hoover, guidance counselor, helps the senior high school students select their future vocations by discussing with them the fields which interest them most. He also administers aptitude and achievement tests to the students which show them their abilities and their weaknesses. Here he is shown interpreting the Kuder Preference Test for Mary Ann Mamrowich.

Mr. Ralph A. Clark Indiana State College, B.S.

Guidance Counselor
Mr. Ralph A. Clark is the assistant guidance counselor.
His work centers around counseling and testing the junior high school students.
However, at time of picture,
he is interviewing Charles

Helpers Are Needed Inside The Hive

The school custodians work day and night to keep the colorful halls and floor spaces neat and in order. Also, the grounds and exterior of the school are to be kept clean and trim. Mr. Peiffer and Mr. Griffith are shown in the supplies department. The pictures of Mr. Smith and Mr. Barr are not available.

A part of the custodial staff works in the evenings to keep the class rooms, rest rooms, cafeteria, and other areas of our building spotless. They devote extra time to their duties after school events and are always ready to co-operate with the student body in special activities. Mrs. Little, Mrs. Sebring, and Mrs. McMillen are members of this group.

Left: All the students in seventh grade have their teeth examined in the nurse's office by a competent dentist. At two year intervals these examinations are repeated and the changes recorded. Bruce Lemmon is shown here getting his teeth cehcked by Dr. Porias for the School Health Record.

Center: Mrs. Streams is patiently demonstrating the principles of diagraming a compound sentence with a transitive verb to her seventh grade English class. At the blackboard demonstrating an example is Edward Kowchuck.

SPORTS

The Marion Center basketball team proved through their 1960-61 season to have one of the finest teams in the state. Coach Williams drilled his players in a fast moving, precision brand of basketball. The team itself was full of enthusiasm and wanted to play their best—not for themselves, but for their school. Excellent team and school spirit was demonstrated by this potent squad. With this desire and "know how" the Stingers played their way into the County League Championship and District Six Championship. Through team work they played very effective ball. With Bence, Bowser, Hankinson, Lydic, and Stadtmiller as the starting five, the quintet proved to be a tough defense for the opposing team. With the coach and players contributing their utmost basketball potential, Marion Center can well be proud of its team.

Coach William authoritatively yells pointers to his mighty five at the Shanksville-Stoneycreek away game. Assistant coach Coffman, also is watching with deep interest. Lyle Williams keeps careful account of the Jackets. Rolando Toccafondi, scorekeeper; is busily juggling numbers and tabulating the scores.

The Marion Center fans raised the roof for their team at the Shanksville-Stoneycreek game. The crowd reaction was as individual as every person present, although the ambition of the fans was all the same. The team was faithfully followed by its fans, giving the boys a feeling that real school spirit was behind them.

Here's More Action

These boys are the members of the Junior Varsity Basketball Squad. The group had an above average record with 15 wins and seven losses. Their record can be recorded in figures, but no one can begin to state the long hours of effort these boys have put into playing a fine game of basketball. The boys played exceptionally hard and averaged many of their games by a small margin. Front Row—Left to right, Gary Wolfe, Richard Forsythe, Eric Peterman, Williams Williams, Murray Wolfe, John Bush. Back Row—Jerry Stahlman, manager; Frank Taccone, varsity manager; Ronald Lightcap, Gary Elkin, Thomas Marshall, Lloyd Brigham, Mr. Coffman, coach.

Matmen Bring More

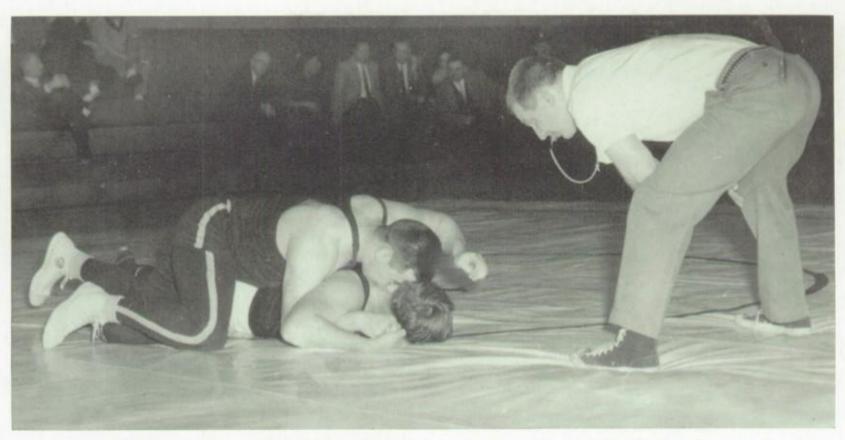

This year for the first time, Marion Center sponsored a wrestling tournament in which Marion Center was the victor. Brockway, United Joint, Moshannon Valley, and Marion Center participated. The Wrestling Squad coached by Mr. McGinnis turned in a 4-5 season. The boys on the squad are, First Row—Left to right, George Caylor, Bob Smith, Larry Johnston, Harold Moody, Jim Sexton, Fred Fairman, and Coach McGinnis. Back Row—Robert Taft, assistant coach; Charles Walker, Howard Foltz, Jim Adams, Andy Allison, Ron Stewart, Preston Fordyce, and manager, Gerald Raymond.

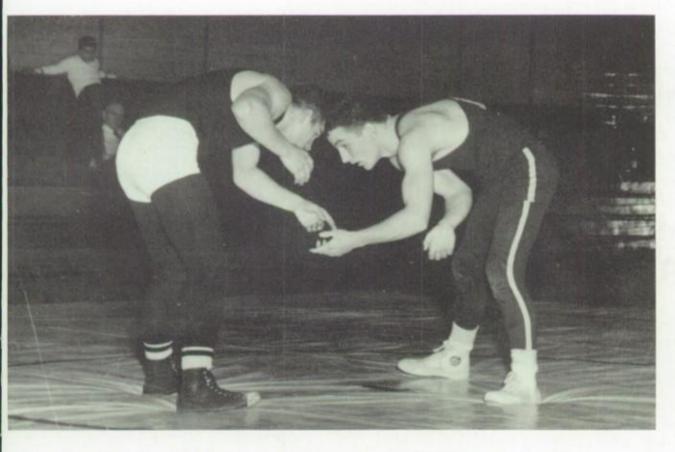

Preston Fordyce, a senior, is shown attempting to escape from his opponent. Even though he was in a tight spot, he later escaped and won his match.

Recognition to the Hive

Ron Stewart, a junior on the squad, has almost succeeded in getting a half-nelson on his opponent. After accomplishing this, he went on to win his match with a first period pin. Ron's record for the year was 9-1; he was also high-point man on the squad.

Bob Smith and his opponent have just started from the neutral position. This time Bob drew a tough opponent, but after a good match he decisioned his man. Bob was the only member of the squad to go to the district matches. Unfortunately he was pinned in the first period.

They Boost Colony Spirit

The vivacious Varsity Cheer-leaders work many hours to develop precision, but as anyone of them can earnestly attest, it is well worth the effort. The basketball team greatly appreciates their spirit and encouragement.

These seven jubilant young ladies are the junior varsity cheerleaders. Their sunny dispositions and school spirit greatly boosted school morale and our basketball players in their victories this year.

Girls Athletics Prove Healthful

Bowling was enjoyed by the girls during the first semester, and by the boys during the second semester.

Theresa Gallo tests her skill at bowling in gym class as her classmates call for a "strike."

They greatly enjoyed playing basketball—both for exercise and for recreation.

This exciting jump ball was the primary action of a basketball game in a sophomore girls' gym class.

Agility and Skill Were Evident

George Krivonick, Fred Bowser, Dick Stadtmiller, and Dave Hamilton proudly display the trophy they received for winning the mile relay at the county meet.

Diamond-Nine Look For A Good Output

Competitive Spirits Are Aroused

A wrestling tournament was sponsored between the home rooms in both the junior and senior high. The participants were signed up by their home room president, if they wished to support their room. The finals were held in the auditorium during home room period. The thrilling action of the matches was captured in this photo of a senior high bout between Howard Foltz, Room 36; and Neill Hill, Room 8. Howard was the proud victor for his room.

These boys are the pleased winners of trophies awarded to them for their skill in the sport of archery. The school sponsored an archery contest in the Marion Center park, under the direction of their instructor, Mr. McGinnis. Kneeling: Jim Smith, first place. Left to right: Andy Allison, third place; Gwilym Deitman, second place; and Terry Haskins, fourth place.

ACTIVITIES

Scientific Bees

Robert George, vice president of the Astronomy Club, is explaining the fundamentals of the telescope to the new members of the club.

Lester Clayton and Floyd Beatty, members of the Science Club, are testing their homebuilt radios.

Mrs. Bush is instructing the Future Nurses on the proper way to make a bed. In addition to teaching the girls a few fundamentals of nursing, they are told the advantages and disadvantages of nursing.

Leadership and Service Are Promoted

Dart For Greener Pastures

The Future Teachers of America conducted an interesting discussion on the subject of higher education and teaching as a profession. Mr. Buterbaugh, the advisor, attempts to help the members plan the proper approach to entering the teaching world. Colleges, universities and the various fields of teaching are carefully studied. Often the club visits a promising college and discusses its educational methods at a following meeting. Standing (left to right): David Wymer, Kathryn Roof, Judith Cherry, Rolando Toccafondi. Seated: Joan Cherry, Nancy Griffith, Mr. Buterbaugh, advisor; Rebecca Walker, and Ruth Ann Huber.

Rolando Toccafondi and Ruth Ann Huber view the beautiful dome of the Capitol building at Harrisburg. These students and the Marion Center F.T.A. advisor, Mr. Buterbaugh, were on tour during their stay of the State F.T.A. Convention which was held at the Cedar Cliff High School at Camp Hill.

Mrs. Marjorie Taylor Clarion State College, B.S. Librarian

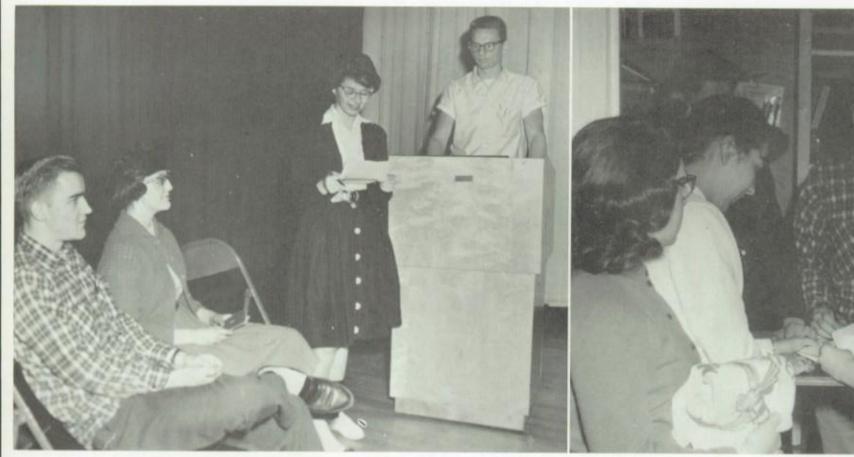

The library supplies the students with magazines to use for references and for their enjoyment. Shown at the magazine rack are the officers of Librarians Club—Carol Lewis, vice president; Kathy Nesbit, president; Wanda Brady, treasurer; Mrs. Taylor, advisor; and Barbara Skoff, secretary.

The Opportunity to Learn and Serve

Members Discuss and Plan Many School Activities

In the picture above the students are ordering sweat shirts at the Student Council store. The sweat shirt sale was a success and the profit was for the benefit of the Student Council Treasury.

Busily at work are the members of the Club Relations Committee of Student Council. The members are, Left to right, Larry Nesbit, Melvin Hankinson, Joan Cherry, chairman; Rebecca Walker, and Mary Evelyn Miller. The main purpose of this committee is to act as overseer of the numerous clubs and organizations of our school.

Students Work Toward A Goal

The Hi-Y Club is formed for the Junior High boys with the purpose of establishing high Christian morals in and around school. The Hi-Y Club is sponsored by Mr. Domb. The officers are Allan Kinter, president; Earl Huffman, vice-president; Donald Fairman, secretary; and Dennis States, treasurer.

Memories Are Our Most Important Product

Kathie Caldwell and LeVonne Legan are packing pages to be sent to the publisher while Bonnie Dilts is typing the Zimmerman engraving order sheet. Yearbook staff is not just another class or a part time project. It is a challenging cycle which requires constant application until the annual edition is completed. Four members of the staff are caught in the act of doing their part for the Centerama. They are, Left to right, Joan Cherry, editor; Mary Ann Mamrowich, assistant editor; Richard Lee, business manager; and Charles Hartman, copy editor.

Editors Work to Meet Deadline

Mr. Miller, Yellow Jacket advisor, carefully checks the editorials for the school paper. Mr. Miller and his competent staff publish a paper each week except when vacations or other events interfere.

Lana Gibson and Benjamin Trunzo carefully proof read news accounts for the Indiana County High Teen Talk news column. Benny and Lana are the Marion Center area reporters for the Teen Talk column as well as staff members of the high school paper, the Yellow Jacket.

Rolando Toccafondi and Richard Rethi, Yellow Jacket editors, supervise and instruct reportertypist Joyce Haight as all toil earnestly to meet the Friday deadline. Sandra Barr and Benny Trunzo, both members of the Yellow Jacket staff, are distributing the weekly editions of the school paper to the assigned home rooms. This publication keeps the entire school's population accurately informed on school activities.

Encourage Student Participation

Concentration Improves the Mind

Ronald Gress and Danny Bothell hold first and second places in the junior chess division. Here they are playing a very crucial game as to their standing in the club.

Ronald Gress and Rodney Hankinson carefully plan their strategy as Ronald Caldwell looks on. The Junior Chess Club trains students in the moves and techniques of chess playing.

Melvin Hankinson defends his position of first place in the senior Chess Club as he matches wits with Ronald Deabenderfer who is in second place.

The senior chess members, Charles Walker, Mel Hankinson, Ron Caldwell, and Ron Deabenderfer were presented chess sweaters. At this time Mr. Hoover, chess club advisor, presents a sweater to Mel Hankinson, president of the Chess Club.

To Keep Order On Buses

This is an unusual angle of a daily routine at Marion Center. The action shows the student body on the primary leg of their evening journey home. A number of students are searching for their buses parked in the circle adjacent to the school. Marion Center employs a staff of 21 bus drivers who are responsible for the transportation of approximately 900 students daily.

Several members of the high school bus patrol are examining independent bus routes. The duties of the patrol are valuable and numerous. This group is under the direction of Mr. Baskin. Seated, left to right, LeVonne Legan, Bonnie Dilts, Judie Winters. Standing, Cherie Davis, Joan Cherry, Charles Hartman, and Ethlyn Horning.

Bus Drivers, First Row—Mr. Trimble, Mr. Tonkin, Mr. Pollock. Second Row—Mr. Brothers, Mr. Kirk, Mr. Malcoms, Mr. Hankinson, Mr. Davis. Third Row—Mr. Smith, Mr. Stuchul, Mr. Leczner, Mr. Burns, Mr. Carroll. Absent when pictures were taken; Mr. Abbey, Mr. Black, Mr. Dick, Mr. Gahagan, Mr. Houser, Mr. Hull, Mr. Kirkland, and Mrs. Steffy.

Matthew Lee critically examines his painting of a winter landscape painted in Art Club. This Club is composed of students interested in the study of art, either as a hobby or as a profession.

The Marion Center Junior Red Cross sponsored an International Art Exhibit at the Marion Center District Schools last fall. Entries in oil and in water color were from the U.S. and a number of foreign countries. Lyle Adams and Mary Lee McQuiston exhibit a painting from the middle western part of the United States while a Japanese painting is displayed by Barbara Pellegrino and Wanda Brady.

Athletic Ability Pays Off

These are the members of the Varsity Club. Each boy has earned membership in the club by earning at least one varsity letter. Under the direction of their advisor, Mr. Baskin, the club attends to the scheduling of various sports events. Bottom row: Robert Smith. Second row: Andrew Allison, George Krivonick. Third row: Jack Lydic, Melvin Hankinson, Fred Bowser. Fourth row: James Wilkerson, Ronald Stewart, Lyle Williams, and Mr. Baskin, advisor. Fifth row: David Hamilton, Preston Fordyce, George Caylor, Harold Moody, LeRoy Gress, Howard Foltz.

A varsity player grasps for an airborne basketball in the varsity-faculty game. Of course our mighty Stingers copped the game by an approximate score of 104-47. Identifiable members of the opposing team are Mr. Taft and Mr. Zbur. Although the score was not as close as the faculty intended, everyone had a wonderful time and really enjoyed the game.

Andy Allison and Bob Smith assist Harold Moody in the fitting for his Varsity Jacket. These boys were each awarded Jackets for their participation on the wrestling squad. Any wrestler with at least two varsity letters is eligible for a sports jacket.

They Learn Something of Value

The proper adjustment of a corn picker is being explained by Mr. Cook to Ernest Nichol. This machine was completely overhauled and all worn parts replaced by the 12th grade agricultural students.

Joe Lemmon, Donald Monsokey and Clair Braughler are preparing enlarged soil maps for their home farms. Mr. Cook is explaining the system of numbering and lettering to be used on the map.

The Future Farmers of America commemorated National F.F.A. week by presenting a special assembly before the student body. Colored slides were viewed, a public meeting was conducted, interesting speeches were presented, and useful crafts were demonstrated. Left to right: Clifford Brothers, sentinel; Larry Ackerson, treasurer; Edward Gaston, chaplain; Clair Braughler, president; Philip Hill, Edward Avey, secretary; Mr. Steffy, advisor; John Gaston, reporter; and Kenneth Black, vice president.

Provide Food For The Nation

85

This year at the F.F.A. banquet, Carol Griffith, a senior, was chosen as the F.F.A. sweetheart of 1961. Pictured with her are Daniel Ritchie, Arthur Kesslar, Brady Rising, and Kenneth Ackerson.

Paul Houser and Clair Braughler received Keystone Farmer Degrees which are based on a supervised farming program and an investment of at least $500 in farming projects.

Assures Skill In

Good Hivekeepers

The Future Homemakers presented an emblem service before the curtain rose on their annual fashion parade. Each of these members presented a short speech on the purpose and meaning of the F.H.A. emblem. The speakers, Left to right—Carol Lewis, Jean Ruffner, Barbara Fleck, Jean Baker, Joy Kaufman, Harriet Putt, Carolyn Potts, and Andrea Renosky.

Mary Aruskevicius was responsible for the opening and closing of the huge fashion magazine to her left. As Mary opened the book, models emerged and displayed their fashion creations to a description read by Judy Winters and Marlene Bonacci. This was all a very unique and effective method of presenting the annual fashion show.

Hidden Talents Were Revealed

These students participated in the senior class play, "Clementine." Sharon McClelland portrayed the title role of Clementine, a young girl who wanted to play on the local school football team. The other members of the cast supported the plot, each with problems of his own. Front Row—Left to right, Mr. Miller, director; Lyle Williams, Sharon McClelland, Rolando Toccafondi. Second Row—Nancy Griffith, George Palmer, Mary Miller, Kathleen Nesbit, Benjamin Trunzo, Judith Mumau, Mr. Mackin. Third Row—Renna Mathiesen, Edward Brandon, William Welch, Jack Sheesley, Lester Clayton, James Adams, Catherine Roof, and William Craig.

Ellen Walker, Esther Walker, Eileen Hamill, Elaine Hamill, and Meika Vuyk attempt to make their puppets come to life in an interesting freshman assembly program. The girls constructed the puppets in their art classes and staged a show for the entertainment of the junior high students.

The sophomore English classes studied the immortal Shakespearean play, JULIUS CAESAR. A group of sophomore girls re-enacted in their class the tragic death of Caesar as this photograph was taken.

The Junior Class presented its annual play, The Arrival of Kitty. The entire production, direction, and performance of the play was a success and the proceeds were very favorable. A great deal of credit is aptly due to everyone connected with the dramatic production. This is certainly true of the entire cast. Front row, Left to right—Anna Wymer, Tony Nastase, Judy Condron, Robert Bence, and Ronald Gilkey. Back row: Andrea Renosky, Thomas Shireman, Rebecca Walker, and Bruce Williams.

Bob Bence and Tony Nastase exercise all the acting potential they possess in preparing for the Junior Play. Bob and Tony portrayed Bob Baxter, and William Winkler, respectively.

Here are the candid associates of Centerama Staff, the Camera Club. The officers: Le Vonne Legan, Steve Zellman, Bonnie Dilts, and George Bernardo, are inspecting pictures. Rosalie Bernard and Cherie Davis are drying prints, and Rolando Toccafondi is processing negatives for enlargements.

Help School Spirit

The Senior Band Majorettes are uniquely arranged in an interesting formation. These girls, who add action and color to the Senior Band, won a twenty dollar award at Black Lick last summer for the best performing majorettes present. Left to right, Wanda Brady, Helen Hastings, Sandy McAfoos, LeVonne Legan, captain; Judy Caylor, Marlene Bonacci, and Andrea Renosky.

Miss Wannett, sponsor of the Booster Club, is assisted by Sara Dalessio, president; and Dwight Kemp, vice-president; in the unpacking of pom-poms and pennants. The Booster Club and the Cheerleaders ordered the decorations to support school morale and boost the spirit of the student body.

Renna Mathiesen and Diane Haverilla are pasting basketball signs in the school hallway. Renna and Diane planned and constructed many of these posters in the art room during their spare time. The Booster Club developed the idea and devoted their time to this project.

Encourage Enthusiastic

At its annual Spring Concert the Cadet Band presents a very entertaining program of music. This also presents an opportunity to pay tribute to outstanding Cadet band members. To honestly deserve and receive this award, a band member must have superior musical ability and exercise it freely by skillful participation in the Band. Thomas Hetrick was the happy winner of this Outstanding Bandsman Award for the school year 1960-61. He was presented with the award by Mr. Bloom, director of Cadet Band.

Each year at the Spring Concert the Senior Band presents an award to three of its outstanding members. This year the Arion award was presented to Rolando Toccafondi. The recipient of the award must be an outstanding member of the band in musical ability, and have contributed to the status of the band. An Underclassmen Award is also presented. It was received this year by Paul Sakach. The exceptional majorette is honored in a similar manner. This year's award went to LeVonne Legan.
